

Guiding Principles and Beliefs

About Learning

- The success of students is the shared responsibility of students, parents, school, and community.
- Students are entitled to a safe, secure and caring learning environment where each individual is respected and valued.
- Quality educational programs develop the total person - social, physical, intellectual, cultural and emotional dimensions.
- All students have the right of equitable access to a quality basic education program that meets their diverse needs.
- All students can learn and experience success.
- Students have a responsibility to participate fully in the achievement of their educational success.
- The satisfaction of students, parents and the public is critical to the success of the education system.
- The education system must provide our society with creative, critical thinkers and problem solvers, who are prepared for the world of work, post-secondary studies, life-long learning and citizenship.
